DETROIT (AP) - A scientists group said Hyundai-Kia has unseated Honda as the greenest automaker in the U.S.

Greenest automaker

The Union of Concerned Scientists ranks the eight topselling automakers based on carbon and smog-forming emissions of their fleets.

The group said all eight automakers reduced pollution for the first time. Honda didn't win for the first time since the scientists began doing the rankings in 1998. Hyundai-Kia beat Honda by equipping many models with smaller turbocharged engines.

Alternative medicine office moves for growth

Dr. Jacob Thone and Dr. Angela Denkinger — the husband-and-wife chiropractors and licensed acupuncturists who own the practice — recently moved their offices to the main level of Futures Park at the intersection of 18th Street and Pasewalk Avenue. It is the second time the practice has moved in the past two years.

Thone said this move — like the one in 2012 — will allow the business to accommodate its

"We needed better parking, more accessible parking and more space," Thone said. "We're expanding some of our services to do more massage, acupuncture and rehab, as well as the chiropractic side."

The space is more than 1,000 square feet larger than the practice's former location at 304 North Fifth St. When the practice originally opened in October 2005, it was located in the Iron Horse Professional Building.

Thone said he and Denkinger had looked for a new location for about a month when they heard Midwest Futures, which had occupied the space, was not going to utilize that portion of the office area anymore.

"We wanted to do more rehab," Thone said.

tients to take part in therapeutic exercise.

The new practice area also has more rooms, as well as another traction table and exercise platform, Thone said.

"That makes it easier to do more comprehensive rehab versus before, when we didn't have a lot of time to do it because of space issues," he said. The new location also offers something the A Center for Chiropratic and Alternative Medicine never has had before: high visibility. "We've always been tucked away in a building somewhere. People found out about us through referrals. Here, it's a different story," Thone said.

The practice opened at the new location on April 28. It also employs Amber Waln, a massage therapist and certified chiropractic clinical assistant.

Denkinger said she looks forward to having more space to do more of the types of treatments she and Thone have wanted to do with the practice.

"Being able to offer those services - especially with someone with a chronic condition or someone who's been to other clinics — they can come here and get all of those services in one place," she said. "We've found that really benefits a lot of people."

Deal to let Offwire expand, add employees

World-Herald News Service

Offwire, an Omaha-based cellphone accessories distributor, has been acquired by Brightstar Corp., an international distributor of the same products with a global headquarters in Miami.

The Omaha office and warehouse, located at 13575 Lynam Drive, will remain, along with the company's 82 employees. The company will officially take on the Brightstar name starting June 15, said Offwire President John Lund, now head of U.S. accessories with Bright-

The deal, signed May 1, will allow the company to expand its products into 2,000 additional wireless retailers, most of which are Sprint dealers.

The company already has its products in about 2,000 stores, many of which are Verizon.

"Now we're looking to double our sales in six months" and add more than 30 employees over the next 90 to 100 days, Lund said.

The hires would be made companywide, from warehouse staff to data analysts and account managers.

"The goal is to double sales again in the next six months after that," which would necessitate the hiring of about 10 to 15 additional employees within the year, Lund said.

The company's office, built from the ground up and occupied in 2008, will be remodeled, and additional warehouse space will be leased, Lund said. "With Brightstar's vast size and access . . . this allows me to reach my vision and goals by continuing what's always made us strong, which is vendor-managed inventory. That's why (Brightstar) wanted us; they wanted us to take our vendor managed inventory and training and promotion into the Sprint channel." Lund said Brightstar manages inventory such as phone cases, portable chargers, speakers and headphones for wireless phone sellers. Phone cases are the most popular product, Lund said, followed by portable chargers and audio accessories.

"Cases, they are an inventory challenge, and that's why people like to hire us because we can help them with our analytics on what are the right cases they can have in their stores. Those are what's most popular, too," Lund said.

He said it was important to remain in Omaha, where the company was founded in 1995 from Lund's basement.

Norfolk company introduces patient info exchange platform

Special to the Daily News

Norfolk-based AET has introduced Consolidated Patient Information (CPI) Exchange.

The CPI exchange is a HIPAA-compliant e-health platform that integrates video conferencing with data exchange and is vendor neutral to electronic health records vendors or radiologic-imaging manufacturers.

With the exchange, any and all data can be easily uploaded or downloaded to a virtual patient file. The data also is secured by the highest levels of encryption and meets key industry standards.

According to Dr. Keith Vrbicky of Norfolk, chief executive officer of AET, the exchange resolves the interoperability issues that have plagued many health care information exchanges. He said the timely sharing it allows also helps decrease duplicate testing, avoid medication errors and readmissions, and improves access and diagnoses.

The electronic patient folders can be stored and made available for at least seven years. Also, a patient's medical records are accessible regardless of location via the CPI Exchange Web Portal, Vrbicky said.

"Our technology solutions have been developed by physicians and engineers that understand the work flow of health care services," Vrbicky said. "CPI Exchange creates a patient folder available to authorized personnel via computer or any mobile device; it also provides a higher level of communication among all caregivers through a videoconferencing solution that eliminates hardware investment."

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Success Summit planned

Special to the Daily News

Divots Conference Center will host the Norfolk Success Summit on Tuesday, June 17.

The Success Summit is a YouTube-inspired event that represents a glimpse of the future of business information and entertainment.

The summit is designed to take relationship building to the next level.

After each of the sevenminute interviews with local business experts, the audience will be asked to leave their chairs and move to the other side of the room.

During the move, they are asked to discuss the highlights of the interview they just witnessed with whomever they bump into during their migration.

Many spontaneous conversations ensue, organizers of the event said.

People overhear others and connect their opinions to what they've heard. The intellectual energy exchanged creates an environment for ideas, concepts and assertions.

The summit is meant to revitalize the business culture and help foster the growth of professional jobs in Northeast Nebraska, encourage strategic and accelerated sharing of knowledge, and celebrate new business perspectives.

The summit also provides an opportunity to share knowledge to stimulate foresighted collaboration and to drive change in the region. The event lasts from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m.

The cost to attend is $15 and includes hors d'oervres and light refreshments.

For more information or to reserve a seat, visit www. successsummitnorfolk.com.
